Morris Dancing
is an ancient tradition.

Help the Chanctonbury Ring Morris Men
keep that tradition alive in Sussex.

Who or what is 'Chancs'?

We are an all-male Morris 'side' based in central Sussex, and celebrated our 60th Anniversary in 2013.

Although 'Chancs' is well-established, we are looking for new 'apprentices' to join us; and we also welcome experienced Morris dancers and musicians who've moved to our area, or who want to join us from other sides.

Our dances are traditional from the Cotswold area, and we even have a 'Mummers' team at Christmas!

For the 'Chancs' Men, Morris is a year-round pastime. With winter practices every Wednesday night, dancing out at pubs and public events through the summer, it's a great way to get out and be sociable.

Why not get involved!

We practise from 8pm - 10pm on Wednesdays from October to April, usually followed by a couple of pints at the 'local'. To see our winter practise location, visit our website.

If you are interested in giving Morris dancing a try, you can come along to any practice session (no strings (or bells) attached!), although it's best to check with the Bagman in advance.

Private Bookings

Chanctonbury Ring Morris Men sometimes take private bookings, subject to the suitability of the event and the availability of enough men.

We also visit local youth groups and care homes, and even 'coach' at stag parties for a contribution to the 'bag'! All enquiries should be referred to our bagman@crmm.org.uk
